Terms and conditions

Manchester United Foundation excludes any and all liability other than those which cannot be excluded by law.

Media

Sometimes we, and the partners we work with, take photos, film video and record the voice of your child. We call this media content.

We use this content for marketing, publicity and TV broadcast purposes. When we do this we own all rights to the content and will use it and share with external media. We will only show your child in a positive way.

We will share media content with the MU Group and with our partners. Find out more about how we use media content: www.mufoundation.org/privacy.

Safeguarding

We believe that it is unacceptable for a child, or adult at risk to experience any kind of abuse. We are responsible for the safety and welfare of your child when they visit our projects.

We won't publish information about a child who is subject to family, care or legal proceedings.

Find out how we keep your child or adult at risk safe at our projects: www.mufoundation.org/safeguarding.

Data protection notice

We use the information you have written on this form to safely run our projects. We also use personal details to take registers and improve the quality of our projects. We often gather statistics to show how our work makes a difference to children.

We are also required to share personal information and statistics with our funding partners.

Find out how we store and process statistics and data: www.mufoundation.org/privacy.

Manchester United Foundation is a registered Data Controller with the Information Commissioners Office, reference no: Z152354. Manchester United Foundation is a registered charity no. 1118310

Test and Trace

To support the contact tracing scheme, details of those who have attended our sessions may be shared with NHS Test & Trace if requested, either because someone who has tested positive for COVID-19 has informed the NHS that they have recently attended a Street Reds session or because a programme site has been identified as the location of a potential local outbreak of COVID-19.

For further details on how the club processes personal data, please see our privacy policy at mufoundation.org/privacy.
